Everything's Coming Up Roses

Welcome to our 2007 summer show. I hope you enjoy the variety of entertainment I have included. I have tried to cater for all tastes and ages (not an easy thing to achieve!). We continue to have a full cast with all age ranges in evidence, and each and every member of Dramarama has something to bring to our shows. Everyone continues to grow in confidence but still retains a good sense of humour (NB you need a sense of humour to wear some of the costumes I make the cast wear!!).

In the collection buckets after the last show, we collected £250 for The Lions Hospice in memory of Margaret Dawson who was a close friend of Anita Russell.

Our Pantomime in February 2008 will be 'Jack and the Beanstalk'.

Thank you all for your continuing support as without you, Dramarama would be nothing (it's no fun 'playing' to an empty Hall!).

King regards,
Pauline Martin (Producer/Director)

First Half

- 1) Curtain up, light the lights and take a chance in white tie and tails, Lets Face the Music and Dance.
- 2) Gosh! Oh cripes! What a scrummy way for The Famous Five to spend their holiday.
- 3) It's hoe-down time in High Halstow Hall, to line dance, sing and have a 'country' ball.
- 4) Two yokels meet by a Greenfield site and two good friends will reunite.
- 5) Drake and Essex primp and preen, and both bow down to the 'virgin'
Queen!
- 6) Ladies with a tale of woe, seem to have lost their 'get up and go'
- 7) It really is a graveyard smash, The Spookey, Scarey, Monster Mash!

Second Half

- 1) A song sung by Soprano and Baritone Entitled, 'Your Heart will Lead
You Home'
- 2) Come on you youngsters, take a stance and deliver an energetic dance!
- 3) Listen to a strong refrain when Mother and Daughter entertain.
- 4) Swedish made simple for all, with a language free-for-all!
- 5) With skimpy skirts and tapping shoes, a lively quick routine ensues!
- 6) He was the fastest in the West. At delivering milk, he was the best.
- 7) A bride, a groom, a pre-wedding fling. But in the end 'she wears his ring'
